

Books and Resources for Finance and Stewardship Ministry

Annual Funding Campaigns

- Enough: Discovering Joy Through Simplicity and Giving Stewardship Program, Adam Hamilton (Nashville: Abingdon, 2009). Church leaders are struggling to help their congregations respond to the violent ebb and flow of the economy. While their members are simply trying to stay afloat financially, the budget of their church is suffering as well. In the midst of all of this, though, there is God and a divine calling for each of us. This simple campaign can transform how the church and individuals view the role of money in connection with their life's purpose and the positive impact that transformation will have on the world.
- Giving Magazine, Annual Stewardship Emphasis (Indianapolis: Ecumenical Stewardship Center, www.stewardshipresources.org, 2001 – 2009). A themed, five-week stewardship program is outlined in the magazine. Reproduction rights are available for a nominal charge, and different approaches to the topic of stewardship are explored in each annual campaign.
- New Consecration Sunday, Stewardship Program Kit, by Herb Miller (Nashville: Abingdon Press, 2007). This new version of a popular fundraising program has helped many churches to turn their focus more on the ministry of the church than on raising money, at the same time increasing funds available for the ongoing ministry of the church.
- Sharing God's Gifts (United Methodist Communications). The materials in the kit draw from United Methodism's history and tradition to support God's claim on our money made real through local and worldwide giving that supports the church's four areas of ministry: nurture, education, outreach and administration.
- Step by Step, by Kermit L. Braswell (Nashville: Abingdon Press, 1995). This is a complete program for increasing funds in the small membership church. This comprehensive guide takes church leaders from building a budget to securing the commitments.
- Transformed Giving, a Stewardship Resource for Churches of All Sizes, by John Ed Mathison (Nashville: Abingdon, 2006) This program unifies and transforms congregations with a 6-week church wide study combined with a stewardship campaign. Its focus is on prayer, presence, gifts and service – individual spiritual development and a new sense of Christian community.

Books and Other Resources

- The Abingdon Guide to Funding Ministry (2 volumes), by Donald W. Joiner (Nashville: Abingdon Press, 1996). A collection of the finest writings by individual writers across denomination lines. This guide is a complete reference book on funding ministry.
- Achieving Dreams Beyond the Budget (available from Planned Giving Resource Center, General Board of Discipleship, PO Box 340003, Nashville, TN 37203-0003). This exciting notebook provides all a church needs in order to organize market and tell the story about the stewardship of our assets and estates.
- Afire with God: Spirited Stewardship for a New Century, by Betsy Swarzentraub (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2000). Applies biblical foundations for personal and congregational stewardship.

- Ask, Thank, Tell: Improving Stewardship Ministry in Your Congregation, by Charles R. Lane (Augsburg Fortress, 2006). The goal of this book, says the author, is to perform a dramatic rescue of stewardship, freeing it from any connection whatsoever to "paying the bills." Stewardship leaders accomplish the rescue by focusing on the three verbs in the title.
- Beyond Money, Dan R. Dick (Discipleship Resources, 2006). Provides theological connection between discipleship and stewardship. The book then provides a context for our roles as stewards of all God has given, defined by God's graces and our use of the fruits of the spirit.
- Countering Pharaoh's Production-Consumption Society, (www.Livingthequestions.com, 2009 LLC) A study for Progressive Christians. Ideal for Advent and Lent, flexible in format, Countering Pharaoh can be conducted over four or five sessions. The program includes over an hour of video on DVD and a CD-Rom with printable written materials.
- Creating a Climate for Giving, by Donald W. Joiner (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2001). Increasing funds available for ministry cannot happen until the leaders evaluate the financial system they have created. This book challenges the "old paradigm" of fundraising and assists a church to create a new culture where giving is part of the steward's response to a gracious God.
- Creative Giving: Understanding Planned Giving and Endowments in Church, by Michael Reeves, Rob Fairly, Sanford Coon (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2005). This resource provides theological grounding for planned giving as a continuum of lifelong generosity. The resource also discusses the nuts and bolts of establishing a permanent endowment fund and promoting planned giving in the local church.
- Creating Congregations of Generous People by Michael Durall (Alban Institute, 1999). This book discusses why people give, provides a foundation for effective, consistent stewardship programs and provides detail for a 12-month stewardship program.
- The Crisis in the Churches, Spiritual Malaise, Fiscal Woe, by Robert Wuthnow (Oxford University Press, 1997). This book discusses the relationship between the financial distress in many churches today with a spiritual crisis. Congregants do not understand the vital connections between faith and money, work, stewardship, giving and economic justice.
- Don't Shoot the Horse ('Til You Know How to Drive the Tractor): Moving from Annual Fund Raising to a Life of Giving, by Herb Mather (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 1994, reprinted 1996, 1999). If your church is looking for a way to change what is not working, this book will help you move from annual fund raising to a life of giving for your church.
- Enough – Discovering Joy Through Simplicity and Generosity, by Adam Hamilton (Nashville: Abingdon, 2009). The book offers an invitation to rediscover the Bible's wisdom on prudent financial practices. Keys to experiencing contentment, overcoming fear and discovering joy come through simplicity and generosity. The book shows life-changing ways to change one's relationship with money.
- Extraordinary Money: Understanding the Church Capital Campaign, by Michael Reeves (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2002). This exceptional book will help a congregation prepare for a capital fund campaign.
- Faith and Money: Understanding Annual Giving in Church, by Michael D. Reeves and Jennifer Tyler (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2003). Presents a theological grounding for working with the challenges, expectations and attitudes of fund development.

- Full Disclosure: What the Bible Says about Financial Giving, by Herb Miller (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2003). Explores twenty financial stewardship themes in the Old and New Testaments, along with contemporary applications of those themes.
- Gift of a Lifetime Planned Giving in Congregational Life, Brodman & Homan, 2000. A basic guide for estate planning, gift planning and endowments and the place of planned giving in the congregational setting. The resource contains many checklists to assist in establishing first-time programs. Sample policies, a survey and glossary are available in the appendices.
- Holy Smoke! Whatever Happened to Tithing, by J. Clif Christopher and Herb Mather (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 1999). This book traces the history of tithing from its Old Testament roots through a more faithful understanding of the New Testament and provides Christians with a more contemporary understanding of tithing today.
- Mandate to Difference: An Invitation to the Contemporary Church, Walter Brueggemann (Westminster John Knox Press, 2006). The author offers a collection of essays, calling the church to courageously defy political polarization, consumerism, and militarism. “If this is God’s world and if the rule of love is at work, then our mandate is not to draw into a cocoon of safety; rather, it is to be out and alive in the world in concrete acts and policies whereby the fearful anxiety among us is dispatched and adversaries can be turned to allies and to friends.”
- Not Your Parents’ Offering Plate: A New Vision for Financial Stewardship, by J. Clif Christopher (Abingdon, 2008) In this book, Christopher lays out the main reasons for the church’s failure to capture the imagination of potential givers, including our frequent failure simply to ask. Written with the needs of pastors and stewardship teams in mind, the book gives practical guidance to all who seek to help God’s people be better stewards of their resources.
- Money Matters, Financial Freedom for all God’s Children, Michael Slaughter (Abingdon, 2006) Shows individuals how to do God’s math, based on spiritual principles to gain freedom from financial worry, debt and the pressures of money.
- Money Matters, Financial Freedom for all God’s Churches, Michael Slaughter (Abingdon, 2006) A guide to lead congregations through a strategic stewardship emphasis.
- Plain Talk about Churches and Money, by Dean Hoge, Patrick MacNamara and Charles Zech (Bethesda, MD: Alban Institute, 1998).
- The Price of Faith, by Marie T. Cross (Louisville: Geneva Press, 2002).The book examines what money and wealth mean in our participation in the life of the church and in our personal expressions of faith. Ten session plans can be used for small group study on personal finances, church funds, charity and attitudes about money.
- Revolutionizing Christian Stewardship for the 21st Century: Lessons from Copernicus, by Dan R. Dick (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 1997; reprinted 1999. ISBN 0-88177-212-7). This book provides a vision for those churches that are ready to give up the past and push into a new vision of funding ministry.
- Sharing God’s Gifts (Free from United Methodist Communications). Provides easily accessible information about the structure and organization of The United Methodist Church and briefly describes its mission.
- Stewardship in African American Churches: a New Paradigm, by Melvin Amerson (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2005). The author offers a practical and theological study of stewardship, both in the context of the African-American church tradition and beyond.

While recognizing still-relevant traditions, he also points to newer tactics and strategies convenient to both members and congregations. Also includes Bible study sessions.

- Upside Living in a Downside Economy, Michael Slaughter (Nashville: Abingdon, 2009). This book offers insight into seeking God's perspective in daily money concerns. Vital topics such as financial and spiritual investments, personal motivation and God's will, money and marriage, and determining priorities are considered.
- Vital Signs: A Pathway to Congregational Wholeness, by Dan Dick (Discipleship Resources, 2007) Insight and diagnostics for renewing congregations. The book provides specific help for congregations wanting to be honest about who they are and where they are. The guide helps identify strengths and weaknesses and tools to build a plan to move forward.
- Wesley and Giving, EcuFilm video (Nashville: United Methodist Communications, 1999).
- What Every Leader Needs to Know, (series). (Nashville: Discipleship Resources, 2004).

Web-based Resources

Financial management resources for use by individuals and families

- Three Simple Rules – www.ThreeRules.org
- Financial Peace University, www.daaveramsey.com
- Good Sense Ministry – www.goodsenseministry.com
- Crown Financial Ministries – www.crown.org
- Sound Mind Investing – www.soundmindinvesting.com
- Smart Money – www.smartmoney.com

Stewardship resources for use in congregations

- Center for Christian Stewardship, United Methodist Church, www.gbod.org/stewardship A rich resource of materials related to Christian stewardship. The site includes an extensive bibliography, listing of annual stewardship campaign materials, capital campaign resources, planned giving information. Also includes sermon starters, children's time ideas, workshops and events. New resources are being developed constantly. For an update and further information, contact the Center for Christian Stewardship, General Board of Discipleship, The United Methodist Church, P.O. Box 340003, Nashville, TN 37203-0003; (877-899-2780, ext. 7077; www.gbod.org/stewardship)
- Ecumenical Stewardship Center, www.stewardshipresources.org Features a variety of resources to strengthen congregational stewardship ministries. Included are those developed by the Center as well as several offered by our member denominations and friends.
- Christian Stewardship Association, www.stewardship.org The site offers church stewardship research, best practices for conducting annual campaigns, grant tips and major donor contacts. Also includes articles on a variety of topics. This resource may be helpful to church-related agencies as well as local churches.

- Ministry of Money, www.ministryofmoney.org This site offers resources to assist people in exploring their relationship to money from a faith perspective. An online and print newsletter is available as well as curriculum and retreats on money and faith.
- United Methodist Church connectional stewardship information www.umcgiving.org Information on apportionments, church-wide Special Sundays, the Advance for Christ and His Church and conference benevolences.
- The United Methodist Church www.umc.org
- United Methodist Information www.umsourcenet.net An unofficial webpage of the United Methodist Church. Find news articles, links to United Methodist boards and agencies, churches and conferences. You may also take a survey about United Methodist issues.

Portions of this bibliography are used by permission from Cokesbury; excerpts of bibliography, "Guidelines for Leading Your Congregation: Finance: Funding ministries that nurture persons in their faith", by Wayne C. Barrett and Donald W. Joiner, General Board of Discipleship, 2004 and "Guidelines for Stewardship," by Herb Mather, General Board of Discipleship, 2004.